The already existing Hegedus Gyula Dormitory consisting of three 6-storey buildings have been expanded with two 9-storey buildings in the area of Széchenyi István University.
The building is modern and well-equipped according to XXI. century expectations and requirements. In the multifunctional building, public and multifunctional spaces, lounges have been created that support the habitants’ cultural, entertaining and scientific activities. The new building wing provides high-standard accommodation as a varied range of services is available on site. The new parts of the dormitory were finished at the end of June 2017, hosting first the athletes of the European Youth Olympic Games. Since then, the Széchenyi István University operates and uses the building as a dormitory. The aim of the implementation was to create a complex space which is regarded by the students not only as a dormitory but also as a place, where everything is available for them: learning, entertainment and culture.

On the ground floor of the buildings, a reception desk can be found (K1 and K0 reception desks), where entrance gates help smooth entries. The bathroom and the toilet are used by 4 people, the habitants of the two rooms. Each apartment has two rooms with separate entrances. Basically the rooms are equipped with twin beds. Against one of the walls, there are the twin beds and a double door cupboard, while on the other side of the room, there are two desks with chairs. There are also 4 shelves on the walls.
